

BBQs and Outdoor Dining

The Royal Botanic Garden Edinburgh boasts 70 acres of landscaped gardens located within easy reach of Edinburgh city centre, offering a number of unique settings and packages for the perfect outdoor dining experience.

On the John Hope Gateway's decked terrace, an all-weather kitchen has been installed with our team of chefs able to create BBQ feasts, home-made stone-baked pizzas and an array of street-food style cuisine.

We offer an enhanced customer experience and ensure all our menus reflect the best local ingredients available, including home-grown salad, herbs and vegetables cultivated at the Botanic by our own in-house gardener.
